Air conditioning

Well-being for the operator

Working inside a cab is now more comfortable than ever. The operator can benefit from air conditioning in order to work without stress, even in situations where external temperatures are demanding.

In environments with large accumulations of dust, the operator does not come into contact with the substance in question as the air in the cab is passed through a filter which improves its quality, removing any pollutants.

THE OPERATOR CAN BENEFIT FROM AIR CONDITIONING IN ORDER TO WORK WITHOUT STRESS.

BENEFITS

- The operator can work in maximum comfort
- The air inside the cab is of better quality
- Reduction in noise for the operator, who can work with the windows closed
